Political Risk

A wide range of political and trade credit risks are underwritten. Insurance policies can be provided to indemnify investors and owners of fixed and mobile assets, including equity or debt of an investment, aircraft, vessel, stock and contractor's equipment against expropriation and other forms of foreign government intervention including aircraft and vessel non repossession. Policies are also provided for traders and commercial organisations indemnifying against counter-party default under contracts for the sale or purchase of goods and services and cover pre and post shipment risks, unfair calling of contract bonds, currency inconvertibility and exchange transfer. Insureds may either be directly concerned in the risk or providing finance to a party directly concerned in the risk. Product recall, malicious, product tamper, piracy, kidnap and ransom risks are written within this section of the business. We are represented on the Lloyd's Market Association Political Risk, Trade Credit and Financial Contingencies Business Panel.
